Analysis prepared by Equity Analyst Herman Saftlas on Apr 24, 2013, when the stock traded at $37.13.

Highlights

- We project sales of about $22.8 billion in 2013, up from an estimated pro forma of $21.8 billion in 2012. We think nutritional products should rank among ABT's faster growing segments, helped by new products and greater penetration of foreign markets. We also see growth for diagnostics, driven by strong demand for molecular diagnostic products and core laboratory diagnostics. New products such the Xience Expedition stent, absorbable stent and MitraClip mitral valve repair system should spur volume in medical devices, while greater expansion in emerging markets should bolster sales of generic drugs.
- Gross margins are likely to approximate or rise modestly from the pro forma 54% that we estimate for 2012, helped by better volume and efficiencies. We also see synergies accruing on the SG&A line, but new product costs will likely push up R&D spending. Interest expense will also probably be somewhat higher.
- Following a projected adjusted effective tax rate at about 21%, we forecast non-GAAP operating EPS of $2.04 for 2013. We see EPS, aided by new products, reaching $2.24 in 2014.

Investment Rationale/Risk

- Effective January 1, 2013, ABT spun off to shareholders its research-based pharmaceuticals business in the form of shares of a new publicly traded company called Abbvie (ABBV 45, Buy). Abbvie's products include Humira treatment for rheumatoid arthritis, a portfolio of other branded drugs, and a fairly robust R&D pipeline. Abbott has retained its established nutritionals, diagnostics, devices and branded generics operations. While we see Abbott well situated in solid global healthcare markets, we believe that many of those markets are relatively mature, with future growth likely to be driven primarily through margin expansion.
- Risks to our recommendation and target price include greater than expected competitive and pricing pressures in the company's principal markets, as well as possible pipeline setbacks.
- Our 12-month target price of $40 applies a premium-to-peers P/E of 17.9X our 2014 EPS estimate, which we believe is reasonable given ABT's dominant positions in many of its markets. Our sum-of-the-parts analysis also indicates inherent worth of about $40. The $0.56 annual dividend presently yields 1.5%.

Qualitative Risk Assessment

LOW	MEDIUM	HIGH

Our risk assessment reflects Abbott's operations in competitive markets and its exposure to rising pricing pressures in global markets. However, we believe the company has relatively strong positions in key healthcare product categories, with prospects brightened by ongoing launches of new medical products, and expansion in emerging markets. We also view the company as financially strong, with a sound balance sheet.

Abbott Laboratories

Business Summary April 24, 2013

CORPORATE OVERVIEW. Following the early January 2013 spinoff of its research-based pharmaceuticals operations in the form shares in a new company called Abbvie, Abbott's businesses are now largely concentrated in nutritionals, medical products and generic drugs. These diverse operations are largely a result of strategic acquisitions made over the years, as well as from internal R&D programs. Abbott commands leading market positions in immunoassay and blood screening products, coronary metallic drug-eluting stents, LASIK devices, and pediatric nutritionals (in the U.S.). The company is the worldwide leader in adult nutritionals.

On a pro forma basis, indicated sales of about $21.8 billion in 2012 were divided as follows: nutritionals 30%, established pharmaceuticals 23%, diagnostics 20%, vascular products 14%, and other products 13%. The United States accounted for an indicated 30% of company sales in 2012, developed markets outside of the U.S. for 30%, and emerging markets for 40%. Abbott expects emerging markets to represent about 50% of its total sales by 2015.

Nutritionals fall under U.S.-based Ross Products and Abbott Nutrition International. Products include leading infant formulas sold under the Similac and Isomil names, as well as adult nutritionals, such as Ensure and ProSure for patients with special dietary needs, including cancer and diabetes patients. ABT also markets enteral feeding (tube feeding) items. Emerging markets account for close to 45% of the company's nutritional sales.

The company's continuing established pharmaceuticals business comprise branded generics which are sold in emerging markets (50% of this division's sales) and developed markets (50%). Branded generics typically command higher margins than conventional generics, especially in emerging markets, as their branded labels afford them a sense of quality and reliability over unbranded drugs. ABT's growth strategy for this business comprises efforts to increase the breadth of product offerings by launching new and improved formulations, and registering products across multiple geographic regions.

ABT offers a wide range of tests and diagnostic systems for blood banks, hospitals, and labs. Principal products include screening tests for hepatitis, HIV, and other infectious diseases, and for cancer; clinical chemistry systems; diagnostic instruments and chemical reagents; immunoassay test kits; hematology systems and reagents; and pregnancy tests.

Abbott Vascular markets coronary and carotid stents, catheters and guide wires, and products used for surgical closure. The principal product is the new Xience drug-eluting stent (DES), which is presently the leading product in the domestic DES market. During 2013, ABT plans to expand its launch of the new Xience Xpedition stent line in the U.S., launch that line in Japan, and increase global market penetration of newer products such as the MitraClip mitral valve repair system and Absorb bioresorbable vascular scaffold.

Other products include diabetes care items such as the Precision and FreeStyle lines of hand-held glucose monitors for diabetes patients, as well as data management and point-of-care systems, insulin pumps and syringes for diabetics. Glucerna shakes and nutrition bars tailored for diabetics are also offered.

In February 2009, Abbott completed the acquisition of Advanced Medical Optics (AMO) for about $2.8 billion in cash. AMO is a leader in ophthalmic care with the No. 1 position in LASIK surgical devices, the No. 2 position in cataract surgical products, and the No. 3 slot in contact lens care products.

Abbott launched several new products and initiated new clinical trials during the first quarter of 2013. These include 19 new nutritional items; the Accelerator a600 next-generation automation solution for the core laboratory; several new diagnostic tests on the Architect platform; the launch of the Xience Xpedition drug-eluting stent in the U.S. and the launch of the Tecnis OptiBlue cataract intraocular lens in Japan.

FINANCIAL TRENDS. In early 2013, Abbott noted that it had significant cash flow generation potential, upward of $4 billion, which should enable the company with ample resources for investments in future growth and returns to shareholders. In mid-April 2013, Abbott confirmed prior non-GAAP operating EPS guidance for 2013 in the $1.98 to $2.04 range. EPS exclude net specified items of approximately $0.59. Specified items are primarily associated with intangible amortization expense, cost reduction initiatives, and the favorable effect of U.S. tax law changes enacted in 2013 related to 2012 results.

Sub-Industry Outlook

Our fundamental outlook for the health care equipment sub-industry for the next 12 months is neutral. We continue to view many product categories as historically recession-resistant, and we expect they will continue to grow, albeit more slowly than they did prior to the recent recession. We remain concerned about continued weak demand for elective medical procedures. In addition, procedure rates have declined in areas we would not normally view as elective, such as cardiac rhythm management, which had been impacted by a U.S. Justice Department probe of implantation, interventional cardiology and orthopedics, and a still-soft economy. On the other hand, a number of orthopedic product makers have been expressing the view that procedure rates for their products appear to be stabilizing and/or recovering modestly in certain categories.

We believe the new medical device tax required by the health care reform law and that took effect this year has prompted the sub-industry to align its cost structure to partially offset the impact of the tax. However, since the levy is income tax deductible, its after-tax effect will be lower, and we therefore view the impact of health care reform as manageable. Many equipment makers have implemented cost reduction initiatives to help offset the levy.

We expect 2013 revenues to rise in constant currency at a mid- to high-single digit pace, aided by new products, expansion into emerging markets, and, in some cases, acquisitions. Still, we expect extended replacement cycles at U.S. hospitals in some areas, pricing pressures, the continuation of European austerity measures, lower demand in certain important product categories and unfavorable currency exchange to continue to affect growth. However, we are seeing sales gains, albeit uneven ones, in equipment that hospitals believe can differentiate them from one another and/or offer a possible high return on investment.

We see positive longer-term fundamentals, including increasing global demand for quality health care, aging populations and rising R&D outlays, leading to a steady flow of new diagnostic and therapeutic products in cardiology, orthopedics, and other areas.

Year to date to May 24, the S&P Health Care Equipment Index was up 15.3%, versus a 15.7% increase in the S&P 1500 Composite Index. In 2012, the sub-industry index rose 16.8%, versus a 13.7% increase in the 1500. The gains in 2012 and so far in 2013 suggest to us that investors have been generally pleased with the health care equipment makers' performance, although it has been among the slower advancers in the Health Care group of indices year to date.

TH A HOLD OPINION (ABBV 37.34): This spin-off from Abbott Laboratories (ABT 33) ranks among the world's leading drugmakers. Still, we note that some 45% of sales comes from one drug- Humira, a rheumatoid arthritis treatment whose patent expires in 2016. We also see generics impacting ABBV's lipid lowering and HIV franchises. On the plus side, we like ABBV's robust pipeline, which we think has promising therapies for hepatitis C, Parkinson's disease and cancer. Our target price of $40 applies a modest premium-to-peers P/E of 12.8X to our 2013 EPS estimate of $3.12. The $1.60 dividend provides a 4.3% yield. /H. Saftlas

12:03 pm ET ... S&P REITERATES HOLD OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT LABORATORIES (ABT 32.88): We maintain our target price of $36, and our 2013 operating EPS estimate of $2.00, near the midpoint of ABT's new $1.98-$2.04 guidance range. Q4 EPS of $1.51, vs. $1.45, was $0.01 below our forecast. While sales rose 4.4%, we attribute most of the gain to strength in drugs such as Humira that are now booked by recently spun-off Abbvie (ABBV 37, NR). For 2013, we see mid-single top line growth, helped by new products such as Absorb vascular scaffold and MitraClip valve repair system, as well as by greater penetration of emerging markets. The dividend presently yields 1.7%. /H. Saftlas

January 14, 2013
05:44 pm ET ... S&P DOWNGRADES OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT LABORATORIES TO HOLD FROM BUY (ABT 33.37): We are reducing our 12-month target price by $40, to $36, to reflect the recent spin-off of the company's research-based pharmaceuticals business as shares of a new publicly traded firm called AbbVie, Inc. (ABBV 34, NR). Our new target price applies a premium-to-peers P/E multiple of 18X to our new $2.00 EPS estimate for 2013 (versus our prior pre-spinoff estimate of $5.55). While we view ABT as well positioned in diversified health care products markets, we think many of those markets are relatively mature, with future EPS growth likely coming largely from margin expansion. /H. Saftlas

November 29, 2012
ABT announces that its Board has approved the separation of its research-based pharmaceuticals business, which will be know as AbbVie Inc., and declared a special dividend distribution of all the outstanding shares of AbbVie common stock. For every 1 shares of ABT held, ABT holders will get 1 share of AbbVie common stock.

November 29, 2012
11:33 am ET ... RETRANSMIT - S&P REITERATES BUY OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT (ABT 64.87*): ABT's board approves the spin-off of its research-based pharmaceutical business named AbbVie Inc. ABT shareholders will receive one share of Abbvie (NYSE symbol ABBV) for each share of ABT held. The distribution will be on Jan. 1, 2013, to stockholders of record on Dec. 12. Our $76 target for the presently combined firm remains unchanged. We see shareholder values of legacy Abbott and Abbvie enhanced by the split, with investors now able to better focus on the growth potentials of each firm. ABBV plans to pay a $1.60 annual dividend, and ABT a $0.56 annual dividend. /H. Saftlas

October 17, 2012
03:14 pm ET ... S&P REITERATES BUY OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT LABORATORIES (ABT 69.11*): We are raising our target price by $2 to $76, following robust Q3 non-GAAP EPS and enhanced valuations that we see for the planned split of ABT into two separate companies, effective Jan 1, 2013. Helped by better gross margins, Q3 EPS rose 10% to $1.30, $0.02 above our forecast. Operating sales rose 4.1%, but were down slightly after negative forex. We raise our 2012 estimate $0.03 to $5.08. We like the R&D pipeline of the new Abbvie pharmaceuticals company, which also plans to pay a $1.60 annual dividend. The legacy Abbott unit is expected to pay a $0.56 annual dividend. /H. Saftlas

July 18, 2012
11:53 am ET ... S&P REITERATES BUY OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT LABORATORIES (ABT 66.25*): We are raising our target price by $4 to $74, following robust Q2 operational results, and enhanced valuations that we see for the planned split-up of ABT into two separate companies. Q2 non-GAAP EPS climbed 9.8%, to $1.23 ($0.02 above our estimate), with sales gains in Humira arthritis treatment, Xience stent, and nutritionals more than offsetting negative forex comparisons. Q2 sales rose 2.0%, after a 4.7% hit from a stronger dollar. The split-up is to be accomplished later this year with the spinoff of the R&D-based drug business to be called AbbVie. The dividend yields 3.0%. /H. Saftlas

July 16, 2012
Abbott Laboratories announced that Greg W. Linder, Vice President and Controller will retire from the company effective February 28, 2013. Robert E. Funck has been appointed Vice President and Controller, effective March 1, 2013.

June 29, 2012
11:23 am ET ... S&P REITERATES BUY OPINION ON SHARES OF ABBOTT LABORATORIES (ABT 63.75*): We are raising our target price on by $2 to $70, in view of an upward revision in our evaluation of ABT's new drug pipeline. ABT's key Humira autoimmune drug recently received a positive opinion from European regulators to add several new uses to its label. Boosted by new indications, we expect sales of Humira to rise 14% to $9B in this year. While we expect it to be the dominant drug of AbbVie, the planned spinoff of ABT's R&D-based drug business, we also see much promise for a next-generation Humira, and new treatments for hepatitis C and multiple sclerosis. /H. Saftlas

Glossary

S&P STARS
Since January 1, 1987, S&P Capital IQ Equity Research has ranked a universe of U.S. common stocks, ADRs (American Depositary Receipts), and ADSs (American Depositary Shares) based on a given equity's potential for future performance. Similarly, S&P Capital IQ Equity Research has used STARS® methodology to rank Asian and European equities since June 30, 2002. Under proprietary STARS (STock Appreciation Ranking System), S&P equity analysts rank equities according to their individual forecast of an equity's future total return potential versus the expected total return of a relevant benchmark (e.g., a regional index (S&P Asia 50 Index, S&P Europe 350® Index or S&P 500® Index)), based on a 12-month time horizon. STARS was designed to meet the needs of investors looking to put their investment decisions in perspective. Data used to assist in determining the STARS ranking may be the result of the analyst's own models as well as internal proprietary models resulting from dynamic data inputs.

S&P Quality Ranking
Growth and stability of earnings and dividends are deemed key elements in establishing S&P's earnings and dividend rankings for common stocks, which are designed to capsulize the nature of this record in a single symbol. It should be noted, however, that the process also takes into consideration certain adjustments and modifications deemed desirable in establishing such rankings. The final score for each stock is measured against a scoring matrix determined by analysis of the scores of a large and representative sample of stocks. The range of scores in the array of this sample has been aligned with the following ladder of rankings:

A+	Highest	B-	Below Average
A	High	C	Lower
A-	Above Average	D	Lowest
B+	Average	NR	In Reorganization
B	Below Average

S&P Issuer Credit Rating
A Standard & Poor's Issuer Credit Rating is a current opinion of an obligor's overall financial capacity (its creditworthiness) to pay its financial obligations. This opinion focuses on the obligor's capacity and willingness to meet its financial commitments as they come due. It does not apply to any specific financial obligation, as it does not take into account the nature of and provisions of the obligation, its standing in bankruptcy or liquidation, statutory preferences, or the legality and enforceability of the obligation. In addition, it does not take into account the creditworthiness of the guarantors, insurers, or other forms of credit enhancement on the obligation.

S&P Capital IQ EPS Estimates
S&P Capital IQ earnings per share (EPS) estimates reflect analyst projections of future EPS from continuing operations, and generally exclude various items that are viewed as special, non-recurring, or extraordinary. Also, S&P Capital IQ EPS estimates reflect either forecasts of S&P Capital IQ equity analysts; or, the consensus (average) EPS estimate, which are independently compiled by Capital IQ, a data provider to S&P Capital IQ Equity Research. Among the items typically excluded from EPS estimates are asset sale gains; impairment, restructuring or merger-related charges; legal and insurance settlements; in process research and development expenses; gains or losses on the extinguishment of debt; the cumulative effect of accounting changes; and earnings related to operations that have been classified by the company as discontinued. The inclusion of some items, such as stock option expense and recurring types of other charges, may vary, and depend on such factors as industry practice, analyst judgment, and the extent to which some types of data is disclosed by companies.

S&P Core Earnings
S&P Capital IQ Core Earnings is a uniform methodology for adjusting operating earnings by focusing on a company's after-tax earnings generated from its principal businesses. Included in the S&P Capital IQ definition are employee stock option grant expenses, pension costs, restructuring charges from ongoing operations, write-downs of depreciable or amortizable operating assets, purchased research and development, M&A related expenses and unrealized gains/losses from hedging activities. Excluded from the definition are pension gains, impairment of goodwill charges, gains or losses from asset sales, reversal of prior-year charges and provision from litigation or insurance settlements.

S&P 12 Month Target Price
The S&P Capital IQ equity analyst's projection of the market price a given security will command 12 months hence, based on a combination of intrinsic, relative, and private market valuation metrics, including S&P Fair Value.

Required Disclosures

In contrast to the qualitative STARS recommendations covered in this report, which are determined and assigned by S&P Capital IQ equity analysts, S&P Capital IQ ranks stocks in accordance with three other ranking methodologies: (a) S&P's Capital IQ's quantitative evaluations are derived from S&P Capital IQ's proprietary Fair Value quantitative ranking model. The Fair Value Ranking methodology is a relative ranking methodology. As a quantitative model, Fair Value relies on history and consensus estimates and does not introduce an element of subjectivity. (b) Global Markets Intelligence uses two different quantitative methodologies to determine recommendations for the Trade Detector research report. One methodology is based on a target price model, while the other methodology is based on four separate quantitative strategies. The STARS, quantitative evaluations and Trade Detector methodologies reflect different criteria, assumptions and analytical methods and may have differing recommendations.

Limited ("MHFSPL"), which is regulated by the Monetary Authority of Singapore; in Malaysia, research reports are issued by Standard & Poor's Malaysia Sdn Bhd ("S&PM"), which is regulated by the Securities Commission of Malaysia; in Australia, research reports are issued by Standard & Poor's Information Services (Australia) Pty Ltd ("SPIS"), which is regulated by the Australian Securities & Investments Commission; in Japan, research reports are issued by McGraw-Hill Financial Japan KK, which is registered by Kanto Financial Bureau; and in South Korea, research reports are issued by SPIAS, which is also registered in South Korea with the Financial Supervisory Service (FSS) as a cross-border investment adviser.

S&P Capital IQ or an affiliate may license certain intellectual property or provide pricing or other services to, or otherwise have a financial interest in, certain issuers of securities, including exchange-traded investments whose investment objective is to substantially replicate the returns of a proprietary index of S&P Dow Jones Indices, such as the S&P 500. In cases where S&P Capital IQ or an affiliate is paid fees that are tied to the amount of assets that are invested in the fund or the volume of trading activity in the fund, investment in the fund will generally result in S&P Capital IQ or an affiliate receiving compensation in addition to the subscription fees or other compensation for services rendered by S&P Capital IQ. A reference to a particular investment or security by S&P Capital IQ and/or one of its affiliates is not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold such investment or security, nor is it considered to be investment advice.

Indexes are unmanaged, statistical composites and their returns do not include payment of any sales charges or fees an investor would pay to purchase the securities they represent. Such costs would lower performance. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

S&P Capital IQ and its affiliates provide a wide range of services to, or relating to, many organizations, including issuers of securities, investment advisers, broker-dealers, investment banks, other financial institutions and financial intermediaries, and accordingly may receive fees or other economic benefits from those organizations, including organizations whose securities or services they may recommend, rate, include in model portfolios, evaluate or otherwise address.
